How to play

This conversational card game is designed for everyone. Set your intention. Share your opinions boldly, but stay open to seeing things from a new perspective.

We hope this game enables you to learn from each other and think critically.

If you want to play a card game while answering questions, here are some suggestions:

 Small Groups: Give everyone three cards. Go round the group, in turns each player asks a question to the group that everyone answers.

 Large Groups: Give everyone a few cards. The first player asks someone a question, they answer and then ask someone else a question.

Answer honestly, elaborate and enjoy great conversations!
